Writing Prompt

Both Huck and Holden are struggling with issues of coming of age and determining where each fits in the society he lives. Write an essay in which you compare and contrast how each character deals with his struggle. Do not simply summarize the plot of the story, but analyze the struggle each character is faced with and how each comes to some sense of resolution.

As you write your paper, remember to:

- Create a focused thesis statement that presents your insight to the prompt
- Clearly present examples from both texts to support your thesis
- Show evidence of careful reading and solid analysis of the texts
- Present your ideas in a logical and organized fashion
- Edit and proofread very carefully
- Present proof of all steps in the writing process
- Type your final copy
- Hand your final copy DIRECTLY to your teacher

Summer Reading 2009-10 School Year

General Requirements

- Students are responsible for securing reading material from the public library, online, or in local book stores. You may also want to check out used book stores, garage sales, and the used book sale hosted by the Public Library System. Sharing copies with friends is also a good idea!

- Typed essays are due on the first day of the fall semester for ALL students regardless of the semester English is scheduled. EXCEPT CP English 9 classes. Follow the directions on the assignment paper.
- Students are required to take a comprehension/analysis test on the reading during the first week of the fall semester (test dates will be announced at the start of the school year).
- Students enrolled in English during second semester must report to the grade level teacher at a designated time to take the test. Listen to homeroom announcements for details.
- Summer reading assignments will count toward the first nine week grading period of the semester.
- There are no deadline extensions granted for any reason. All students must meet the deadlines required. There are no extensions granted for missing the quiz dates.

Academic Honesty

We encourage you to do some background research on the books/plays assigned and the author and the time period the work was written. Although Cliff's Notes, Spark Notes and other study materials are beneficial as a supplement to the actual reading of the text, they are not endorsed as a method of replacement for the text itself. The internet has some great resources to help you understand the works presented. Make use of the library and sources on the internet if you have difficulty with the reading. Study groups and discussions with your friends are also helpful. Please be aware that some teachers do not have access to district e-mail over the summer and may be unable to address questions via e-mail.

Reading Journals

Students have found it beneficial to keep a reading log where your thoughts on the plot, character, themes, style of writing etc. can be recorded. Some classes will require you to do additional work with the reading during the semester. It would be helpful to have a journal to refer to as a refresher of the details of the book. It is also helpful to record your questions about the reading in a journal. Doing so will help you present intelligent questions to your class when you return.
